

PDO participation in ASSE-MC Conference

PDO participated in the American Society of Safety Engineers-Middle East Chapter (ASSE-MEC) 7th Professional Development, Conference and Exhibition which was held on March 18 - 22, 2006, in Bahrain. The conference was one of the most comprehensive forum on issues within the fire protection, environmental, health, and safety segment of the oil, gas, petrochemical and other industries in the region.

The conference was attended by the leading oil and gas organizations in the region due to the fact that these organizations believe that since the Middle East is the base for some of the world's largest corporations in the oil, gas, and petrochemical industries, it is imperative that fire protection, environmental, health, and safety become and remain major issues of concern in the region.

The company displays a lot of range of products ranging from videos, cassettes, DVDs, posters and take away gifts.

"The conference was a successful event in which we met a lot of people from different companies and shared with them our experience in managing HSE" Mohamed Al-Tobi (Corporate HSE support) said.

"We were overwhelmed with a high number of visitors asking for different materials we displayed to a state that we had to order extra materials during the second day of the conference." Mohamed AL-Mashani (HSE team leader-exploration) added.

Khalid Al-Jaradi head of assurance commented "The conference provided an opportunity for a valuable network with other participants for the benefits and growth of HSE in the region."
